5-027 CUMMINGS VALLEY

Basin Boundaries Description

2003

- County: Kern
- Surface Area: 10,000 acres (16 square miles)

Summary

Cummings Valley Groundwater Basin is bounded on the north by the Sierra Nevada and on the south by the Tehachapi Mountains, with low-lying ridges connecting the two ranges on its east and west sides. The basin is drained by Chanac Creek, which exits the Cummings Valley to the southwest. A small ephemeral creek enters from Brite Valley to the northeast.
